

THIRD UNIVERSALIST CHURCH
Musical and Literary Entertainment In Aid of It

The congregation of the Third Universalist Church, Greenpoint, gave a musical and literary entertainment on Thursday at Smithsonian Hall, the receipts of which are to be used in completing the new church now in course of erection on North Henry street. The hall was crowded and an interesting programme was rendered. The entertainment opened with an overture by Professor Roden's orchestra, which was followed with songs by Miss Sadie C. Martin; Miss Blanche L. Frederici gave a reading, "Lady Maud's Oath;" Mme. B. Brousil rendered a violin solo, "The Last Rose of Summer;" a tenor solo was sung by George B. Waters; Miss Blanche L. Frederici gave a reading, Professor Howell a banjo solo and Professor Keely a piano solo.
