

[Angel, Emer]

DEATHS.

In Winfield, Herkimer county, August 9, 1833, Mr. EMER ANGEL, aged 63. His disease was short and distressing, having all the characteristics of the Asiatic Cholera. Mr. Angel was, when he died, as well as many years before, a firm believer in the doctrine of universal salvation. He had been a member of the Universalist society at New-Berlin, Chenango county, for many years; at which place he had lived before moving to Winfield; and at the first organization of the Universalist society at Cedarville, he became a member, and has ever been a zealous advocate of that doctrine which has cheered him in health, comforted him in pain, and sustained him in death. He was evidently aware of his approaching dissolution for two days previous to his death, and although he endured the pain which in three days dissolved his earthly tabernacle, yet he was never heard to murmur, but bore his sufferings with Christian fortitude, while he retained his mental faculties to the last moment of his life. Aside from his faith as a Christian, he possessed all those moral virtues which endeared him to all who knew him, as well as those whose faith was limited, as those whose faith knew no bounds. As a neighbor, and as a friend to suffering humanity, he was always ready to assist in comforting the sick and distressed, and "him that had none to help." He was a reconciler of differences and a promoter of peace, and thus having a clear conscience, void of offence [sic], he has finished his course, and quietly resigned his life to his God who gave it.
