

[Babcock, Clarinda Gorton]

Death of Mrs. Amos Babcock

Clarinda, wife of Amos Babcock, died at the Home for Aged Men and Couples to-day. Mrs. Babcock would have been 74 years of age had she lived till the 1st of next month. She was born in Brookfield and for thirty years resided with her husband in Waterville. They came to the Home three years ago and have been very happy, comfortable and [illegible] husband is heart-broken at the loss of his loved companion. She is survived by a son, Charles Babcock of Rome, and by a brother, Dr. F. T. Gorton of Waterville. Mrs. Babcock was a Universalist and was a [illegible] lady. Her old acquaintances will greatly regret to hear of her death.

The Utica Observer, Utica NY, Wed. 11 Apr 1900
(from a poor copy)

Transcribed on 26 Jan 2019 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY