MONROE BURNES [sic]

Monroe Barnes, 76, passed away Tuesday morning at his home, 10 Burwell street, Little Falls, death coming after an illness of about three years. He suffered a stroke a few days ago, this being the immediate cause of death.

Mr. Barnes was born in the town of Salisbury, February 11, 1859, son of the late Almon and Eliza Stoddard Barnes. He spent his youth and much of his life in that town. In 1887 he was married to Henrietta Ashe, who died in 1934.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge of this village and attended the Universalist church in this village.

Surviving are three sons, Claude, Indian Castle, and Frank and Fay, at home; one daughter, Mrs. Hazel Oathout, 108 Diamond street, Little Falls; one brother, Elmer Barnes, Stratford; and two sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Thompson, Stratford, and Mrs. Mae Barnes, Salisbury Corners.

A Masonic funeral will be held from the home in Little Falls, Thursday afternoon at 2, with Rev. C. [Clinton] A. Moulton, pastor of the Universalist church of this village. Burial will be made in the Salisbury Corners' cemetery. The Dolgeville lodge will be in charge.
