

[Bement, George D.]

Victor, N.Y.—One of the worst accidents to happen in Victor lately occurred last Saturday afternoon when George Dryer Bement, an old resident of this village, attempted to cross the Lehigh Valley tracks in front of a freight train. He was struck by the engine and thrown to the opposite side of the street and instantly killed. No blame in any way is placed on the company, as the gates were down. The funeral was held from his late residence Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Chester G. Miller [Universalist] officiating. Interment at Boughton Hill cemetery.
