

[Billington, Harry K.]

Harry Billington, Contractor

Harry K. Billington, 91, 27 River St., Fort Plain, died early Thursday morning at Nathan Littauer Hospital, Gloversville, where he had been a patient since April 1.

Born in April, 1888 in Nelliston, he was the son of Oliver and Catherine Stretmeyer Billington.

He was married to the former Christina Reno Lieber on March 12, 1966, in Fort Plain.

Mr. Billington was self-employed as a carpenter-contractor in the Fort Plain area most of his life.

He was a 70-year member of the former Otsquago Lodge, IOOF, and held various offices in that organization, including that of district deputy president.

Survivors, in addition to his widow, include nieces, nephews and cousins.

Services were held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Gray Funeral Home with the Rev. Donovan White, pastor of the Fort Plain Universalist Church of the Messiah, officiating.

Interment was made in the Fort Plain Cemetery.

Courier-Standard-Enterprise

Fort Plain, N.Y.

Tue. 22 April 1980