

[Black, Frank W.]

Frank W. Black

Services will be held at 10 A.M. on Wednesday at All Souls' Universalist Church, Ocean and Ditmas avenues, Brooklyn, for Frank W. Black, former vice-president of the Chase National Bank. He died on Saturday night at the age of 71 in the Brooklyn Hospital. He lived at the Hotel St. George, Brooklyn, with his wife, Mary E. Black. Besides her, Mr. Black is survived by a sister, Mrs. Florence Reed of Boston, and a brother, Howard Black of this city.

He was born in Calais, Me., and came to New York as a young man. From 1911 to 1916 he was a partner of Charles E. Mitchell in the bond business, and before his association with the Chase bank, Mr. Black was a vice-president of the Equitable Trust Company. He resigned his post with the Chase organization in 1931, then went with the Corporation Trust Company as auditor. A year ago he quit this position.
