

[Carnduff, Edith Haskins]

MRS. CARNDUFF, RETIRED TEACHER

Funeral services for Mrs. Edith Haskins Carnduff, retired public school teacher and the wife of William M. Carnduff, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Fairchild Chapel, 951 Atlantic Ave. The Rev. Dr. Cornelius Greenway, pastor of All Souls Universalist Church, Ocean and Ditmas Aves., will officiate. Burial will be in Cypress Hills Cemetery.

Mrs. Carnduff, who lived at 3825 Farragut Road, died Monday in Midwood Hospital. She was born and educated in Brooklyn, and taught in various Brooklyn schools for a period of 35 years. For many years she taught at Public School 106. She had long been active in All Souls Church.

Besides her husband, who is an executive in the shoe distributing firm of Nath'l Fisher & Co., she is survived by two brothers, Frederick E. W. Haskins Jr. and Harold W. Haskins.

Brooklyn Daily Eagle, New York NY, Wed. 10 Jun 1953

Transcribed on 8 Sep 2009 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY