Miss Carpenter, 82, Cold Brook, Dies

COLD BROOK—Miss Jennie E. Carpenter, 82, one of Cold Brook's oldest residents, died Monday in the home of her niece, Mrs. Frank Spadler, 521 Renwick Ave., Herkimer, following a brief illness.

Miss Carpenter was past matron of the Kuyahoorra Chapter 145, O.E.S., having served in 1910 and 1922. She joined the chapter in 1903. She was conductress for 11 successive years.

She was a former school and music teacher and was also village tax collector of Cold Brook and treasurer of the Union School district.

She was a member of the Past Matrons and Patrons Association and the Universalist Church. For many years, she was dressmaker and milliner.

She was born in the vicinity of Newport, June 13, 1864, daughter of Charles and Emily Howe Carpenter.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Cora Barney, Stamford, Conn., and several nieces and nephews.
