

[Cook, Hannah Warner]

OBITUARY.

Hannah Warner Cook, relict of Loren Cook, departed this life June 4th, 1889. Deceased was born in Sandersville, Berkshire Co., Mass. Came to Otselic with her parents when she was 16 years of age; married to Loren Cook at the age of 18 years; was the mother of nine children that lived to manhood and womanhood. She lived with her husband about 60 years and had been a widow about 11 years, during which time she has managed her own affairs up to the last year. She has been cared for in the family of her daughter, Mrs. D. M. Webster, where she passed away at the age of 86 years and 3 months.

She was a Universalist in faith and works, and died as she had lived—rejoicing in a lively faith of a glorious immortality for all. For several months she sustained a severe and distressing illness with a fortitude and patience seldom equaled. As her bodily strength decreased her faith and hope increased. Reconciled to God she bade all earthly things adieu and left the world in peace. In her was united the virtuous wife, the affectionate mother and the universal friend of all.—Otselic Herald
