

[Cornish, Mary G. Tucker]

MRS. MARY G. CORNISH

Mrs. Mary G. Cornish, widow of George C. Cornish of Lee Center, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Hitchcock, 300 North Washington street, last evening. She had been troubled for some time with rheumatism and was taken ill Sunday with pneumonia, the direct cause of her death. Mrs. Cornish was born in New Berlin in 1832, moving to Lee Center shortly after her marriage, from where she came to Rome about two years ago to take up her residence with her daughter. She was a member of the Universalist church of Lee Center and a devout Christian woman. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. P. H. O'Donnell and Mrs. Arthur Hitchcock of Rome; three sons, George R. of Rome, Harvey of Lincoln, Neb., and Alling C. of Trinidad, Col. One brother, William Tucker of Oneonta, and one sister, Mrs. Rhoda Hawkins of New Berlin, also survive.

Rome Citizen, Rome NY, Fri. 29 Apr 1898

Transcribed on 28 Jan 2010 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY