

[Crouch, Nellie M.]

Nellie M., daughter of George W. Crouch, died last evening at her home, No. 30 Howell street. Miss Crouch suffered an attack of typhoid fever three weeks ago, which finally developed in congestion of the lungs, defying the skill of her physicians. She was a young lady of estimable character and kind disposition, which endeared her to a large circle of friends. Her many excellent qualities of mind and heart rendered her a favorite among all her acquaintances. Miss Crouch was a member of the First Universalist Church, and was one of the leaders in the society of Floral Workers, an organization of the young people of that church. Besides her father, the members of the family are three sisters, Mrs. S. W. Hagan, Mrs. J. L. Bruff, and Sarah L. Crouch, and two brothers, George W., Jr. and Frank P. Crouch.

Democrat and Chronicle, Rochester NY, Tue. 8 Dec 1891

Transcribed on 20 Apr 2008 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY