

[Decker, Elizabeth]

Victor, N. Y.—Mrs. E. M. J. Decker, of Victor, widely known as an efficient temperance worker in the W. C. T. U., died Sunday evening after a long and painful illness. She was the widow of the late Myron Decker, and leaves one child, Miss Gracia, who graduated from Brockport Normal School last summer. Mrs. Decker was greatly esteemed by people of all denominations for her exalted Christian character. She was a member of the Universalist Society of Victor.
