

[Dyson, Thomas P.]

Died—In the town of Butternuts, N.Y. on the 13th inst., after a long and distressing sickness, which he bore with remarkable patience and christian fortitude, Capt. THOMAS P. DIXON, aged 49 years. The deceased was an affectionate husband, a fond and indulgent father, and a respected member of society. He has left a wife, three children, and a numerous circle of friends to mourn his loss. It is to them, however, a source of consolation to know, that he died in peace, perfectly resigned to the will of God in his departure, and with a lively hope of immortality beyond the grave, and a most unwavering faith in the final salvation of all [people].

Evangelical Magazine, Utica NY, Sat. 26 Sep 1829
[a Universalist newspaper]

Transcribed on 12 Aug 2012 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY