

[Flagler, Platt B.]

DEATHS.

In Darien, Genesee county, N.Y., July 9th, of consumption, PLATT B. FLAGLER, son of Rev. J. S. [John Solomon] Flagler, aged 22 years. The disease which closed his earthly pilgrimage, seems to have been induced by the almost unparalleled assiduity with which he pursued his studies, preparatory to entering the legal profession. Possessing naturally a vigorous mind, he ascended the hill of science with uncommon alacrity, and a disposition and moral character that might well be envied, he secured the love and esteem of all who knew him. The Bible was not so much his favorite study as was the Book of Nature. True science and philosophy, however, conducted him into the faith of christianity, the infinite goodness of God, and the endless joy of the immortal world. He calmly conversed upon death and the future, appeared to be fully reconciled to God, and sweetly fell into the arms of a crucified Redeemer. The funeral services were attended on the 10th, by a numerous congregation, by the writer.

C. H. [Charles Hammond]

Evangelical Magazine & Gospel Advocate, Utica NY, Fri. 12 Jun 1840
[a Universalist newspaper]

Transcribed on 9 Sep 2012 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY