

[Fosgate, A. C.]

DEATHS.

In Walworth, Wayne county, on the 24th ult., A. C. FOSGATE, in the 28th year of his age. The deceased was at work in company with several other persons, threshing wheat. He took the place of his father, who had been feeding the machine; at this moment the cylinder exploded, which was the cause of his death. On examination it was discovered that he had received a wound upon the head which terminated his existence in an instant. Mr. F. was young, amiable, and beloved. In the morning of his days he has been removed from a tender companion—from the embrace of the most fond parents, who deeply mourn their loss—and from a numerous circle of sorrowing friends. A very large concourse of people attended his funeral on the 25th, a discourse was delivered from Lam. iii:31-33, by the writer of this article. His memory will long live in the breasts of all who knew him.
