

[Goodrich, Sarah Jane Hoskins]

In Fleming, N.Y., on the 4th inst., Mrs. SARAH JANE GOODRICH, daughter of Mr. Gaylord Hoskins, aged 26 years. The deceased had experienced many trials and sorrows, growing out of domestic troubles, which had a fatal effect upon her health. Her sickness was long and painful; but she bore all her afflictions with christian fortitude. She was greatly respected for the purity of her character and her many virtues, and received the general sympathy of the community where she resided, in view of her peculiar trials. At length death came to her relief, and brought her afflictions to an end. She departed in a peaceful and resigned frame of mind, in a confident reliance upon her Saviour and with a triumphant hope of a blissful immortality.—May the richest consolations of the Gospel comfort those who mourn her early exit from life.
