

[Goodridge, Mary C.]

MARY C. GOODRIDGE

The funeral of Miss Mary C. Goodridge was observed from her late home in Pendleton this morning at 10:30 o'clock. There was a very large attendance, showing the high esteem in which the young lady was held. Quite a number from this city attended. Rev. G. [George] W. Powell conducted the services, taking for his text the passage, "She is not dead, but sleeping." Singing appropriate for the occasion was conducted by Mr. Tristum Corliss. The remains rested in a beautiful broadcloth casket with satin linings and white silk handles, covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers from sympathizing friends. Miss Goodridge had long been a member of the Universalist Church in this city, and had attracted many warm friends by her exemplary Christian character.

She was Secretary of the Pendleton branch of the W.C.T.U., of which organization she was an interested and faithful worker.

The bearers were: H. J. Leland, Joseph C. Rickard, M. S. Rickard, Van Ness Stowell, Hiram E. Foote, Martin Myres.

Interment at Bear Ridge cemetery.

Daily Journal, Lockport NY, Thu. 8 Sep 1887

Transcribed on 13 Jan 2015 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY