[Guile, Matthew]

Died from Blood Poisoning

OSWEGO FALLS, March 12—One day last week Matthew Guile, who worked in the Weeks pulp mill, accidentally lacerated his finger quite badly with a piece of rusty wire. The wound was at first thought slight, but blood poisoning set in, and death came to his relief last Sunday. He was 55 years of age and leaves a family. The funeral occurred yesterday from the Universalist church.

Oswego Times, Oswego NY, Wed. 13 Mar 1895

Transcribed on 12 Aug 2011 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY