

[Haig, Mary Louisa Parr]

Mrs. Mary Haig

Mrs. Mary Haig, widow of the late Walter R. Haig, died at her home on Upper Main street, on Tuesday evening. She was a daughter of Dr. John Parr and Louisa Cronkhite Parr, and was born 74 years ago at Buel, in the town of Canajoharie. She lived there until her marriage when she removed to Fort Plain, where her husband was a teacher of Greek and Latin in Clinton Liberal Institute [a Universalist institution]. Mrs. Haig was a member of the Universalist church and took a great interest in its work and various activities.

Mrs. Haig was devoted to her family. She enjoyed the acquaintance of a large circle of friends, who held her in deep affection and who will greatly miss her from among them.

Mrs. Haig is survived by three sons, Glen Haig and Frank Haig of Cohoes, [and] Harold P. Haig of Fonda; two daughters, Mrs. William Hartman and Miss Ethel Haig of Fort Plain; six grandchildren; her step-mother, Mrs. Martha Parr, who is 82 years of age, and who made her home with Mrs. Haig; a half-brother, John Parr of Fort Plain, and a half-sister, Mrs. Fred J. Smith of Lockport.

The funeral services will be held from her late home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. B. P. Butler of the Universalist church, officiating. The remains will be placed in the Catharine Nellis Memorial chapel vault until spring, when interment will be made in the Fort Plain cemetery.
