

[Heath, Adeline L. Miner]

Heath-Heath

Mr. Erastus L. Heath of Marengo, Ill., and Mrs. Adeline E. Heath of Cortland were this morning at 8 o'clock married at the bride's home in Cortland, 5½ Greenbush-st., by Rev. U. S. Milburn, pastor of the Universalist church. The groom is the brother of the bride's former husband. Only a few of the immediate relatives were present. The guests partook of a dainty wedding breakfast and then Mr. and Mrs. Heath left on the 10:45 o'clock train. Mr. Heath formerly lived in this county and is well known in the town of Taylor. They will reside in Cortland.

Evening Standard, Cortland NY, Mon. 21 Aug 1899

Mrs. Heath Dead

Cortland, April 15.—Mrs. Adeline E. Heath died at her home, No. 5 Greenbush street, death resulting from cancer, from which Mrs. Heath had been a sufferer for about three years. She was a native of South Spafford, but for the last sixteen years she had lived in Cortland. She came to this city from Truxton. Mrs. Heath is survived by two brothers, Oscar P. Miner of Cortland and George W. Miner of Truxton, and two sisters, Mrs. J. P. Taft of Homer and Mrs. Amelia Brown of Cortland.

The funeral will be held from her late home, No. 5½ Greenbush street, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and from the Universalist church at 10:15. The services at the home will be private.

Syracuse Herald, Syracuse NY, Wed. 15 Apr 1908