

[Hoskins, Frank Ashton]

FRANK A. HOSKINS

Frank A. Hoskins died early this morning at his home, 7 Parsons Street, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Hoskins was born in the Town of Aurelius, and came to Auburn (38?) years ago. He was employed for many years at the A. L. Dewdney grocery store, and later by the B. A. Dean coal office. He attended the First Universalist Church.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Floyd J. Hoskins of Los Angeles, Calif., and Edward I. Hoskins of Auburn; and a grandson, Edward L. Hoskins of Auburn.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of his son, Edward I. Hoskins, 107 North Fulton Street. Rev. Hal T. Kearns will officiate, and burial will be in Soule Cemetery.

Citizen-Advertiser, Auburn NY, Tue. 28 May 1940

(Deaths). HOSKINS. At his home, 7 Parsons Street, Tuesday morning, May 28, Frank A. Hoskins, husband of Emma Lewis Hoskins. Funeral services were held from the home of his son, Edward I. Hoskins, 107 No. Fulton Street, Thursday afternoon. Interment in Soule Cemetery.

The Press, Auburn NY, Thu. 6 Jun 1940