

[Hutchings, Hiram]

Gainesville.

Hiram Hutchings, one of the most respected citizens of this place died quite suddenly at his residence on Monday night at 11:30 o'clock at the age of 85 years. Mr. Hutchings was born in New Troy, Penn., in 1806, and while a young man moved to Charlotte, Mich., and was one of the pioneers in that country. He had been a resident of this place for about nine years, and by his sterling integrity and uprightness of deal had won the respect of every one with whom he was acquainted. Mr. Hutchings was a consistent christian and a member of the Universalists church. He gave with a generous hand to all worthy charities and was a public spirited townsman. He was a kind and affectionate father and leaves two daughters, Mrs. L. S. Hall and Miss Frank Hutchings here to mourn his loss, besides one daughter and two sons in the West. The remains were taken to Charlotte, Mich., Mr. Hutchings' old home for burial on Wednesday morning.

Wyoming County Times, Warsaw NY, Thu. 19 Mar 1891

Transcribed on 2 Aug 2012 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY