

[Jenks, Nancy Lyman]

MRS. NANCY LYMAN JENKS

Mrs. Nancy Lyman, widow of Daniel P. Jenks, died after a brief illness in Big Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10, 1902, aged eighty years. She lived a quiet, beautiful life and when the summons came was "all ready." The remains were accompanied back to her former home by a devoted daughter, Mrs. L. Jenks Clark, who has given her mother the most tender and loving care since the death of the father in 1894. The funeral was held in the Universalist church at Speedsville, where an exceedingly comforting and helpful sermon was given by the Rev. U. S. Milburn, a Universalist minister from Cortland. Two sons also survive her, William and Anson Jenks of Ithaca.
