

[Kenyon, Permelia Pearsall]

MRS. J. P. KENYON

Mrs. J. P. Kenyon died at her home in Morris last week Wednesday afternoon, after several weeks of illness. Mrs. Kenyon was 80 years of age, born and brought up in the town of Morris. Her girlhood home was at Pearsalls Corners, where Scott Lull now lives. She married J. P. Kenyon 58 years ago, and from that time she had lived in the village of Morris and had been a leading woman in town, a member of the Universalist church, generous hearted, and always active in any public enterprise where she could help. She leaves a husband and one son, Lynn B., of Morris. She lost her only daughter, Lila, a lovely girl, several years ago, and her oldest son, Charles, enlisted and come [sic] home to die. She had a lovely home, and everything about her she could wish. The funeral was largely attended at the house Saturday afternoon, services conducted by her pastor, the Rev. F. G. Leonard, with interment on their large family plot in Hillington Cemetery.

Otsego Farmer, Cooperstown NY, Thu. 24 Feb 1905

Transcribed on 29 Mar 2009 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY