

[Kingsley, Edson B.]

EDSON B. KINGSLEY

Dolgeville— Edson B. Kingsley, 80, who, for many years conducted a shoe peg factory at Salisbury, died Feb. 14, 1941, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Floyd Smith, S. Main St. , after an illness of seven months.

He was born in the Town of Rockwood, son of Sewall and Lydia Bacon Kingsley. For (40?) years he had lived in Salisbury, where he operated the shoe peg factory established by his father 100 years ago. Cheese boxes also were manufactured there years ago when the cheese industry thrived in this area.

Mr. Kingsley, on Sept. 24, 1884, married Carrie Brown who died last July. He was a member of the Universalist Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Floyd [Sybil] Smith, Dolgeville, and Miss Estelle Kingsley, Montclair, N. J.

The funeral service will be Sunday at the home of his daughter, the Rev. C. A. Moulton of the Universalist Church officiating. Burial will be in Dolgeville Cemetery.

Observer-Dispatch, Utica NY, Fri. 14 Feb 1941

Transcribed on 17 Feb 2009 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY