Frederick S. Lee Dies

Auburn friends of Frederick S. Lee, son of Mrs. F. [Florence] H. Lee and the late Doctor [Frederick Harvey] Lee, dentist, of Rochester, formerly of this city, will regret to learn of his death which occurred on Tuesday at his home in Rochester. Funeral services and interment [in Fort Hill Cemetery, Auburn] took place yesterday.

Mr. Lee, while his parents lived here, attended the High School, where he was prominent in musical activities. His father had a successful practice in dentistry.

The maternal grandfather of the deceased, B. B. [Benjamin Bradford] Snow, was for years superintendent of the public schools of Auburn. Mr. Lee's paternal grandfather, Rev. Doctor [Day Kellogg] Lee, was minister of the Universalist Church here at one time.

Surviving Mr. Lee are his widow [Minnie Norton Lee], one son [Frederick Harlow Lee], two daughters [Elizabeth Norton Lee and Margaret E. Lee] and his mother.
