

[Livingston, Robert G.]

DEATHS.

In Genoa, Cayuga co., N.Y. at the residence of his son, R. B. Livingston, Esq., Col. ROBERT G. LIVINGSTON, aged 73 years, 2 months, and 11 days. Col. Livingston was a native of Dutchess co., N.Y., from whence he moved into Cayuga co., more than 20 years ago. He was a man of honor, respectability, and usefulness. He was known only to be respected and loved. He was a firm believer in the doctrines of the Paternity of God—the brotherhood of man, and the final salvation of the race. He was for a number of years afflicted with one of most painful diseases to which the human system is liable, tic doloreux,<sup>1</sup> yet not a murmur fell from his lips. He waited patiently for the time when the angel of death should open the door and permit his freed spirit to enter upon the joys of a higher life. He has left a companion, two sons, and one daughter, to mourn his departure, but they expect to meet again, where parting is not known. His funeral was attended on the 2nd inst., and a sermon was delivered by the writer.

J. [Jacob] H. HARTER

The Christian Ambassador, Auburn NY, Sat. 16 Dec 1854
[a Universalist newspaper]

Transcribed on 24 Jan 2013 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY

---

<sup>1</sup> trigeminal neuralgia