

[McCrossen, Amanda]

Deaths.

In Canadice on the 5th of February last, Mrs. Amanda McCrossen, wife of Dr. David McCrossen, aged 37 years, 11 months and 5 days.—The deceased was a kind mother, a faithful wife, a devoted christian, and accordingly a worthy and much respected member of society. She was anxious to be in faith and practice a true Universalist, and no less anxious to let the world know that she died a Universalist. For what had given her joy in life and steadfast confidence in God, would also administer comfort in death. After a long and painful sickness during which the most constant and unremitting care and attention were shown by her anxious and affectionate husband, and other near relatives, she calmly and without a struggle or a groan, yielded back her spirit to God who gave it. Funeral services by the writer at the Baptist Church in Hemlock Lake Village.

O. R.

Christian Ambassador, Auburn NY, Sat. 29 Mar 1851

[a Universalist newspaper]

Transcribed on 17 Oct 2011 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY