

[McLouth, Gustavus]

The death of Gustavus McLouth, one of Farmington's most prominent farmers, occurred at the Memorial hospital in Canandaigua, on Sunday morning, following an operation. His age was 61 years. Gustavus McLouth was born in the township of Farmington on July 31, 1852, and was a son of the late Marshall and Margaret McLouth. His entire life, with exception of seven years passed in Michigan, was spent in the land of his birth. He took for his wife Miss Mary Bloodgood, the ceremony being performed during the year of 1877. He was a member of Farmington Grange, Parlor Village Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Shortsville, and the Universalist church of Macedon. The survivors are his wife, four daughters and one son: the Misses Evangeline, Effie and Sara McLouth, and Mrs. Harriet Dickens, all of Farmington; Carlton McLouth of Palmyra; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Howard and Mrs. Adelbert Adams of Farmington, and Mrs. Converse of Michigan; also a brother, Louis H. McLouth of Clifton Springs. The funeral obsequies were held from his late home on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock and the burial followed in Brookside Cemetery in this village.

Shortsville Enterprise, Shortsville NY, Thu. 31 Jul 1913

Transcribed on 29 Aug 2013 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY