Annie Miller, Active in Hospital Work

VALLEY STREAM—Services were held today for Annie L. Miller, who for half a century was a prominent figure in civic work on the South Shore. She died Monday night.

Miss Miller spent her last hours in Jamaica Hospital although she had devoted many years of her life in the interests of the South Nassau Communities Hospital at Oceanside. She fell in her home at 224 Merrick road a week ago and the physician called in, because of his affiliation with Jamaica Hospital, ordered her removal to that institution. Death was attributed to a heart attack, induced by shock of the injury.

The funeral was in the home that vice president of Chapin [Chapin] Home, Jamaica, shared. Officiating were the Rev. Frank Oliver Hall of the Divine Fraternity [Paternity: Fourth Universalist], Manhattan, and the Rev. J. [H.: Harry] Elmer Peters of the Universalist Church, Floral Park, of which Miss Miller was a member. Burial in the Cypress Hills Cemetery.

Born in Brooklyn, Miss Miller moved to Valley Stream with her parents, the late William L. and Louise Miller, 55 years ago. Thirty-seven years ago she joined the Fortnightly Club of Rockville Centre and was active in its affairs until her death.

She was also a charter member of the Central Council of Auxiliaries of South Nassau Communities Hospital, was active in work of the Chapin Home for the Aged in Jamaica and the Red Cross. Her sister is the only immediate survivor.
