

[Rector, William T.]

—William T. Rector, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Brown Hill, Cohocton, died suddenly from heart failure Friday morning, aged nearly 75 years. Mr. Rector was a life long Republican and cast a vote on Tuesday last for Morton and Saxton and the whole Republican ticket, going several miles through the storm for that purpose. He leaves a widow [Katherine M. (Henry)] and two sons, [Floyd and Wm.] one adopted [Wm.]. The funeral was held yesterday at the Universalist Church, Cohocton, the pastor, Rev. H. [Herbert Philbrook] Morrell, officiating.
