

[Shoemaker, George]

George W. Shoemaker

George W. Shoemaker died Monday morning at 2 o'clock after six years of suffering from a complication of diseases. He was well known and greatly liked for his cheerful, companionable traits of character and had earned a splendid reputation as an amateur entertainer before his health had become impaired. He was a Democrat in politics and had served three terms as collector and one as village treasurer, being chosen to these offices without opposition. He is survived by a widow, one daughter, Miss Pauline, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. William [Willard and Sophronia] Shoemaker, with whom is the deep sympathy of all. The funeral will be in charge of the Royal Arcanum, of which deceased was a member, and will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home in West Smith street. Rev. L. [Lewis] H. Robinson [Universalist] will officiate.
