

[Slocum, Helen E.]

Helen E. Slocum

Helen Esther Slocum, only child of Ray and the late Violet Mack Slocum passed away June 24 after an illness of three years.

Helen was born November 2, 1918, and graduated in the class of 1937 from Perry High School and later took a course in Homemaking at St. Lawrence University at Canton, finishing her training at a hospital in Port Chester, N.Y. After returning home she was assistant dietician at the Community Hospital in Warsaw which position she filled until compelled to resign on account of health.

Helen was in young girlhood a great lover of cattle and raised a number of purebred animals which she showed at county and state fairs receiving many ribbons of merit for showmanship and the cattle.

Helen leaves to mourn her loss, her father and aunt, Miss Eva Mack.

The funeral services which were private were held from the home Monday afternoon with Rev. Julia Tobey [Universalist] conducting the burial services at Glenwood cemetery.

Perry Herald, Perry NY, Wed. 28 Jun 1944

Transcribed on 20 Sep 2011 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY