Mrs. Sarah Snow Died in Canisteo, Saturday Morning of Heart Disease

After having passed the allotted span of life by eleven years, death claimed Mrs. Sarah Snow, a lifelong resident of Whitesville and vicinity, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice McGraw at Canisteo, Saturday morning, Jan. 22, where for the past three or four years she had made her home.

Mrs. Snow had been afflicted with heart trouble for a number of years but had enjoyed fairly good health otherwise up to a few days before her death. [On] Saturday morning she called Mrs. McGraw about 7 o'clock saying she felt ill. Everything possible was done for her but at 8 o'clock she was dead.

Deceased was born at Westfield, N.Y., April 20, 1856[.] [A]t Shongo she was married to Warren B. Snow who died several years ago. To them were born six children all of whom survive.

The body was brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wildman in this village, Sunday morning and the funeral services were conducted from the Universalist church of which deceased was an earnest worker, Monday afternoon at one o'clock. Interment in the family plot in Rural Cemetery, Rev. J. D. Herrick officiating.

Mrs. Snow was a woman of true Christian worth. She never allowed petty differences of opinion in regard to worldly or religious matters to affect her friendships, and her life has not been lived in vain.

There were many beautiful floral offerings.

Those attending the funeral from away were: Mrs. Alice McGraw, Canisteo; Mrs. John Phalen, Auburn; Mrs. L. D. Whitwood, Jefferson, O.; Mrs. Hattie Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Boyce and daughter, Wellsville; Mrs. W. L. Snow, Endicott, N.Y.; Mrs. Nora Crandall and Milford Crandall, Independence.
