

[Turner, Sarah A. Warren]

Clarendon

Sarah A. Turner, widow of the late Luke Turner, died at Dublin, N.H., on Monday, to which place she was removed last September. She had been gradually losing her mental and physical faculties for nearly two years, and for the last year has [had] been a great care for her friends. A sister, Mrs. Joseph Morse, kindly volunteered to take her from her home in Clarendon to her native place and care for her, as only a devoted and loving sister could. She was for many years a devoted member of the Universalist church of Clarendon, and by her means and example contributed to the welfare and upbuilding of the society worshiping there.

SAM.

Holley Standard, Holley NY, Thu. 12 Mar 1885

Transcribed on 4 Feb 2016 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY