

[Underhill, Jane Whiting]

Mrs. John P. Underhill

On Wednesday, May 3rd Mrs. John P. Underhill died at her home in Glenwood, aged 75 years. She had been a patient sufferer for some time. She was a faithful woman in her home, a model wife and mother and a woman with many friends. She was a member of the Universalist church at Boston, also a member of the Ladies' Aid Society of Glenwood.

She will be missed in many ways. Her funeral was held at the family residence on Saturday a.m. Rev. Riley of Springville, who is also pastor of the Universalist church there, paid a very fitting tribute to her memory. The flowers were many and beautiful. Interment in the Boston cemetery [Maple Wood] where their oldest son Jay, who died about six years ago [in 1910] is also laid to rest. A husband and two daughters, Mrs. George Davidson of Buffalo, and Mrs. Louise Deltz of Center Street; [and] one son, Frank, of Wales Center, survive her.

Wyoming County Herald, Arcade NY, Fri. 12 May 1916

Transcribed on 28 Mar 2018 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY