

[Waterman, Sarah Jackson]

MACEDON

Mrs. Sarah Jackson Waterman passed away suddenly at her home in Williamson Thursday night, aged 38 years. She was born in Macedon 38 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. [Adelbert and Charlotte] Jackson, and was a resident here until sometime after her marriage to Adelbert D. Waterman. For several years she has made her home in Williamson, where she has endeared herself to many. Some years ago she became identified with the Universalist church in Macedon and was a member of the (?) chapter in Williamson. Besides her husband she leaves one daughter, Valeda Waterman, and one son, Maynard Waterman, of Williamson; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jackson of Macedon, also one sister, Mrs. Samuel G. Ayres of Woonsocket, R.I., and a host of friends. The funeral took place from the family home in Williamson Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. A. [Adelbert] E. Allison, pastor of the Universalist church in Macedon officiating, and assisted by the pastor of the Presbyterian church in Williamson.

Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Allison, Mrs. Henry Steiger and Miss Ella Harwood were in Williamson Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. A. D. Waterman.

Fairport Herald, Fairport NY, Wed. 16 Feb 1916

Transcriber's note: Several misspellings in this article were corrected without citation.

Transcribed on 14 Mar 2011 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY