A DEATH IN OXFORD

Mrs. John S. Webb

Oxford, Aug. 6 (Special)—Yesterday morning at her home in this village occurred the death of Mary A., wife of John S. Webb, after an illness of only a week's duration with a complication of diseases. Mrs. Webb was born in Smithville, Feb. 4, 1835 and had lived there until February, 1902, when she came to Oxford. She was married in (1857?). She was a member of the Universalist Church and was a woman greatly attached to her home and found her greatest happiness inside the domestic circle. She is survived by her husband; one son, Clark L. Webb, a much respected business man of this village; also one granddaughter, Miss Bertha Webb, and one brother, John P. Davis of Oxford. The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the family residence.
