

[Woodworth, Harriet Rose]

BRIDGEWATER

—The startling intelligence of the death, at her home in Rochester, Minn., of Harriet Rose, wife of Granville Woodworth, was read in town last week. Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth were both former residents of this place. They moved to Rochester many years ago. Mrs. Woodworth was a devoted wife and mother. She was given to hospitality and was a loyal member of the universalist [sic] church in Rochester. Her death was occasioned by pneumonia. She leaves a husband and two daughters to mourn her departure.

Brookfield Courier, Brookfield NY, Wed. 13 Dec 1899

Transcribed on 27 Jan 2010 by Karen E. Dau of Rochester, NY